Editor's Note: It was quite a challenge putting this newsletter together during the aftermath of Hurricane Sandy. Though I was fortunate to have power restored early on, my access to the Internet was limited. I believe I included everything that was sent to me, but if I missed something, I apologize. Please resend anything I may have missed and I will try to include it in the Spring.

Historians

Woodglen Village

Excerpts taken from Lebanon Township 200 Years
by Nina Savoia

Woodglen Village was settled around 1756 by about a dozen families. Around 1800, after a local tavern owner noticed his building was becoming shabby looking and had it painted white, the area became known as White Hall. The village included a stage coach stop, general store, wheelwright, blacksmith shop, and a school, as well as residents' homes.

The most famous enterprise of Woodglen Village was the gold mine started around 1900 and said to be located near the present school grounds. Of course, there are many conflicting stories about this. Around this time, to avoid conflicts with mail being routed to another White Hall in New Jersey, the village's name was changed to Woodglen.

Holiday Tree Lighting Planned

The historians are planning a Holiday Tree Lighting on Wednesday, December 5, 2012 at 6:00 PM at the Lebanon Township Municipal Building. The Voorhees High School Show Choir will perform and refreshments will be served. All are invited to attend this holiday gathering.

Bunnvale Library

News from the Library ...

The Halloween surprise of Hurricane Sandy, whose effects will be felt throughout the northeast for quite some time, highly contentious local and national political campaigns culminating in huge voter turnouts and interesting outcomes on Election Day, and the everyday stresses and challenges faced by all, have made many of us anxious to turn the calendar pages for a new start and a new season. What better time to try out an unfamiliar recipe, finally read those elusive classics or watch an action-packed DVD? Close your Facebook page and come on in to Bunnvale Library to warm up, catch up and power up!

The winter season also brings new collections for the Anne Rambo display cabinet. During the month of December, the Common Threads Quilt Guild will display its members' handmade quilts. For January, the spotlight will be on local pottery, courtesy of the Lebanon Township Museum. February will feature fiber products from the loom of Tari Vuocolo.

Join us for a special family program on Saturday, December 15, when Diana Dove will present New Jersey Winter Wildlife, Tracks and Signs, from 11:00 AM - 12 Noon. Suitable for all ages, this program, sponsored by Lebanon Township Clean Communities, offers stories, songs and local creature representatives – some live, some stuffed! Pre-registration is encouraged; please call the library or stop by to sign up.

Story Time for preschoolers ages 2-5 continues through the winter, and will be held most Fridays from 1:15 - 2:00 PM. Registration is required; details and schedules are available at the library and on our township webpage.

Thank you to the many patrons who responded to our previous newsletter by donating books and DVDs to supplement our inventory and sale shelves. We always welcome your contributions, but please call ahead first to be sure we have places to accommodate your items.

Bunnvale Library is here for you. We are your community full-service library providing a wide range of fiction and nonfiction books, audiobooks, adult and juvenile DVDs, periodicals, books for sale, a free paperback exchange, free internet and WiFi access, copy and fax machines. If you don't see what you want, we can order items from within the county system or conduct a wider search. Let us know if and how we can better serve you, the public.

Valley View and Woodglen Schools Collecting Labels for Classroom Supplies

Over $2000 raised last year -
Please send in your box tops and labels today!

Collecting labels allows our teachers to receive supplies for their classrooms such as globes, art drying racks and computer supplies. This is a year-round program and the teachers are so appreciative of the items provided.

Our schools participate in several programs including Labels for Education, Box Tops and Tyson Project A+. Examples of participating brands are Post, Campbell, Bic, Pepperidge Farm Goldfish, V-8, Prego, and SpaghettiOs. Please be sure to clip the full label – if you are unsure, feel free to send in the whole label.

All labels can be dropped off at Valley View and Woodglen Schools, Bunnvale Library or the Municipal Building.

Another easy way to help is to register your Shop Rite card on the Labels for Education website and the school will receive points every time you purchase a participating brand.

Thank you so much for your help. If you have any questions, please email us at labels.committee@gmail.com.

Hurricane Sandy Unites Township Residents

Most of us will not forget Hurricane Sandy for a very long time. Although our memories of this storm and its effect on our township will be varied, there will be some most of us share ... trees down; power, phone and cable lines down; roads closed; no lights, no heat, no water, no internet, no school; gas lines and odd/even days; searching for fresh food, ATM machines, generators and gas to power them; Halloween activities postponed or canceled. And then there are the memories of the effects of this storm on communities nearby ... loss of life, loss of homes and property, and the destruction seen at the Jersey Shore, in Hoboken, Jersey City and lower Manhattan, on Staten Island and Long Island. The list goes on. Those are the bad memories, and there are probably many more for some of us.

But here in Lebanon Township, many of us will also have memories of the spirit of community that arose from this storm. Neighbors helped neighbors, sharing their homes, heat, food, hot water, and generators; collections of food and clothing began; a local church opened its doors to provide warmth, hot showers, coffee, and internet access; linesmen from states as far away as Michigan and Georgia worked tirelessly to restore our power. Again, the list goes on.

Throughout the days and weeks following the storm, nowhere was the spirit of community more evident in our township than at a Potluck meal held on Sunday, November 11, at Woodglen School. The Potluck was organized in less than 72 hours by a group of township residents, mainly through the Lebanon Township Community Facebook page.

Local residents who were still without power were invited to come and enjoy an afternoon of fellowship and good food, provided by their neighbors, local restaurants and businesses. School Superintendent Jason Kornegay and Woodglen Principal Mike Rubright supervised kids in the gym while their parents enjoyed a warm, home cooked meal in the cafeteria, for many, the first they had had in quite a while. An abundance of soups, stews, casseroles, pasta dishes, salads, desserts and more were donated, and leftovers, of which there were many, were taken out to linesmen working on power lines throughout the township, delivered to homebound residents and donated to a soup kitchen at a local church.

Hopefully, the caring, selflessness and community spirit which was felt throughout our township in the days following Sandy, will continue to thrive and grow here and we will see and feel it, not just after the next storm, but everyday.

Township residents still without power enjoy a potluck meal provided by their neighbors. Photos by Nick Romanenko.

St. John Neumann Welcomes New Pastor

The Community of St. John Neumann in Lebanon Township has welcomed a new pastor, the Rev. Abraham Orapankal. "Father Abraham" assumed his new responsibility in September, succeeding the founding pastor, the Very Rev. J. William Mickiewicz, "Father Bill", who has retired after 30 years. His ministry has included serving as a high school principal, church pastor and adjunct professor of theology in India.

Father Abraham's primary task for his new assignment is to continue the mission of the Catholic Community of St. John Neumann: to be living witnesses of Jesus Christ. The weekly motivation and sustenance for this witnessing comes from the community's Sunday worship. He believes that "the Sunday service must be the time when the worshippers feel they are touched by God. Hence, it must be a prayerful, meaningful and happy experience so that everyone will spontaneously want to come back every Sunday." He said he is fully aware and appreciative of the fact that St. John's initially was nourished by the hospitality of Califon Christian communities – in particular, Califon United Methodist Church and Lower Valley Presbyterian Church. "I have worked for many years as a missionary in Nagaland (in the northeast of India) which is predominantly a Baptist region, and so I am at home in the midst of various Christian communities and I look forward to working together with the different communities around here," he said about his appointment here. He enjoys reading and walking.

Born Oct. 11, 1956 in Kerala, India, Father Abraham, has four younger brothers and three younger sisters. At age 15, he entered the seminary in Assam, India to become a missionary priest. He graduated from Christ King College in Shillong and completed his theological studies at the Papal Seminar in Pune. He was ordained to the priesthood on Dec. 17, 1983 for the missionary Diocese of Kohima in Nagaland, then earned his master's degree in theology. He was appointed dean of the Minor Seminary in Nagaland, where he subsequently became rector.

Father Abraham came to the United States in 1994 and ministered at various N.Y. area churches while studying at Fordham University and the Shalem Institute of Spiritual Direction in Bethesda, Md. He returned to India in 2001 to teach theology and to serve as spiritual director at Oriens Theological Seminary in Shillong. In 2004 he returned to the U.S. and began six years' ministry with Renew International, based in Plainfield, as a national presenter and retreat director. He also supervised Renew's "Theology on Tap" program which reaches out to young adults.

Father Abraham came to Hunterdon County from St. Bartholomew Church in East Brunswick where he was parochial vicar for the past two years. He is known for bringing the word of God to life and relating it to today's culture.

United Way of Hunterdon County Looking for Volunteers for Tax Season

Looking for a different kind of volunteer opportunity? How about volunteering to assist with tax return preparation for low-to-moderate income Hunterdon County area residents this tax season? Last year our tax preparation volunteers returned $423,968 to Hunterdon County residents!

United Way of Hunterdon County is looking for volunteers to spend a little time learning about tax return preparation. You will be trained with Internal Revenue Service tax materials to help people whose incomes are under $51,000 with their federal and state individual income tax returns.

Through the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program (VITA), you will learn to prepare simple federal and state tax returns. In return, you will be asked to donate about four hours a week helping at a VITA site from the beginning of February through April 15th. Our VITA sites transmit tax returns electronically. If you're interested in learning to e-file tax returns on a volunteer basis, then VITA can teach you.

You need not have any accounting experience. All that's required is a desire to help others who cannot prepare their basic tax returns or afford to pay a preparer. VITA volunteers participate in training sessions—in class, online, or through self-study—then are tested on what they have learned. Once certified, volunteers are assigned to VITA sites in neighborhood community centers, libraries, and churches in locations convenient to VITA customers.

Not interested in numbers, but still looking to help people? Consider volunteering as a Greeter at a free tax preparation site in Hunterdon County. Volunteer Greeters assist tax preparation clients as they fill out paperwork, ensure clients have brought in all of the paperwork needed to complete a tax return, make reminder phone calls to clients, and provide clients with additional resources they can access once their return has been completed.

Don't wait! For more information or to volunteer, contact Amy Andersen, Volunteer Engagement Manager at amy@uwhunterdon.org or call (908) 782-3414 x24.
