First Aid Squad

Preparing for Winter Emergencies

Lebanon Township has already had its first winter storm, Tuesday, October 28. The storm shut down most of the power and roads in the township. It also left emergency workers scrambling to answer an unprecedented number of calls from residents and mutual aid calls. Here are a few helpful hints to keep you safe for the winter.

During the winter, the most likely emergency is for the electricity to go out. Prepare for this by finding an alternative way to heat your home. An alternative heat source is important not just for the people living in the house, but also because bursting frozen water pipes can create a major disaster. If possible, have a backup generator available to run the heating system for short bursts during the day to keep interior temps above freezing. If you have a wood stove or a fireplace, keep quantities of wood standing by, just in case. If you have a gas log fireplace, it should operate even without electricity as usually the gas will continue to flow. Try to control fuel usage, by closing off unnecessary rooms and dressing warmly.

We do not recommend kerosene heaters because of the danger they pose. However if you chose this alternative method of heating, have carbon-monoxide detectors in operation and keep fire-extinguishers handy. More importantly, do NOT bring a charcoal or gas grill inside as the fumes can kill.

Keep battery operated or wind-up flashlights and radios ready. It is a great way to stay informed of weather conditions and also to keep a ready source of light on hand. Having a store of food and drink that does not need electricity to stay preserved is also a good idea. Enough preserved foods (dried fruits, canned goods, crackers, cookies, etc.) to last several days should do the trick. Keep a 5 gallon container of water in your basement or pantry, or at least a case of bottled water. You can also use snow, but it should be boiled for one minute before use.

A first-aid kit should also be on your list of items necessary to prepare for an emergency. We encourage you to take a CPR/First Aid course so that you have the know-how to deal with minor emergencies and know when to call 911. It is especially important to not abuse the emergency system during a township-wide emergency. Before dialing, ask yourself if this is truly an emergency call or if you can wait to see your family doctor. If you are suffering from shortness of breath, chest pain or the person you are with has an altered mental status, please call 911. Do not attempt to drive yourself or a loved one to the hospital. There is no rescue method that allows you to drive and do CPR at the same time.

More importantly, if you are dependent on medication or oxygen, make sure you have an adequate supply to last you for several days. This is especially important for our many residents who have machines at home that convert room air to oxygen. When the power goes out, you will lose your oxygen supply. Make sure you have spare canisters of oxygen to use in case this happens.

Winter and the driving risks associated with the season have just begun. The October 28 storm just gave us a taste of what can happen on the road. The National Weather Service reports that 70 percent of injuries due to snow and ice result from vehicle accidents. When a winter storm hits, consider staying home. Before leaving the house ask yourself, "Is this journey worth my life?" If the answer is no, stay home.

Winterize your car by taking it to a trusted mechanic, who will check the tires for appropriate pressure and tread, the cooling system, the battery, the wiper blades and washer fluid, etc. Keep extra blankets in the trunk in the event you are stranded and have to wait for help. Keep your gas tank near full to avoid ice in the tank and fuel lines. Before hitting the road, make sure you and all passengers have a warm coat, hat, gloves or mittens and water resistant boots. It is best to dress in several lighter layers of clothing as opposed to one large outer layer.

Consider creating a disaster kit in your car that includes battery-powered NOAA radio with extra batteries, blanket and/or sleeping bags, first aid kit and manual, flashlight with extra batteries, fire extinguisher (5 lb., A-B-C type), battery booster cables and flares, tire repair kit and pump, compass, road map, knife, heavy sack of sand or cat litter (for tire traction) and tow rope, bottled water and non-perishable, high-energy foods such as peanut butter and granola bars, extra clothing to keep dry, and windshield scraper and brush.

When traveling in bad weather, take it slow and inform someone of your route, destination and estimated arrival time. Remember that a trip does not have to be a long one to pose a risk in bad weather. Wherever you are going, avoid driving alone if possible.

As we go into the winter months, use common sense when emergencies happen. Remember, staying calm is the first part of responding to any emergency. The members of the Lebanon Township First Aid Squad hope that you have a safe and happy winter.

LTAA

Basketball Season Begins in December

Registration forms for Basketball were due November 15 and practices begin in early December. Many thanks to Ken Whitmore for volunteering to serve as Basketball Commissioner. Ken can be reached by email at kjwhitmore@gmail.com or by phone at (908) 537-1054.

29 Years of Fun & Fitness

The Lebanon Township Athletic Association (LTAA) was founded in 1980 by a group of parents with the goal of providing an instructional venue for the children of Lebanon Township, Califon, and the surrounding communities. From a modest start of 150 children in the initial soccer program, the program has grown to include almost 1000 children in soccer, basketball, T-Ball, softball and baseball.

LTAA is an independent, non-profit, self-supporting organization, composed of parents of participating children as well as volunteers from the community. All funding comes primarily from the registration fees paid by the participants, as well as, occasional, volunteer fund-raising activities.

LTAA programs are designed with a focus on the individual. We stress that each individual should be involved in a positive environment that helps that individual grow. Each child should gain equally from the physical activity and the development of social relationships with peers, coaches and parents. This fundamental approach should apply equally to naturally athletically gifted children and those children who may never participate in sports at a competitive level in either youth sports programs or high school and national programs.

It must be understood and remembered that the LTAA officers, commissioners, coaches, assistant coaches and score keepers are all community members who volunteer their time and experience to benefit the children of our community.

Volunteers are always welcome and encouraged. Participation with your child as a coach or an assistant coach or in any capacity can be a source of great joy and satisfaction. At the same time, your child will benefit from having that participation. By sharing this experience with them you can enrich their lives, build their confidence, and improve your relationship with them.

Commissioners Still Needed

We continue to search for two additional Commissioners. The positions of Baseball Commissioner and Field Commissioner need to be filled before Spring. If you are interested in volunteering, please email us at ltaacentral@yahoo.com or call Board President Jim Foran at (908) 835-9273.

A Look back at our Heritage ... By Ralph Lomerson Lebanon Township Historian

CAMP WO-CHI-CA

A Children's Camp Located on Pleasant Grove Road
Lebanon Township, 1934-1950

Along about 1933, a group of workers set up a camp for their children as part of an adult camp at Wingdale, New York. Things were pretty cramped there and it was difficult to have freedom for youngsters when they had to share baseball, swimming, etc., with grownups. So the workers who directed the camp decided to look for a new place for their camp.

Some people told these workers about a farm up in the mountains of Lebanon Township, some sixty odd miles from New York City. They found a 127 acre abandoned and run down farm, owned by the Lance family. The owners loaned the farm to the workers for three years, after which, the workers would have to buy the farm. Organizations like the Fur Workers Union, Painters Unions, International Workers Union & the Progressive Women's Council gave money and support to build the camp. Since this happened in the middle of the Depression, it was very hard for people to give away their money.

What they found when they came was only an old beat up house, plastered white on the outside, another dirty old building which was used as a mess hall, an old red barn and some chicken coops. There were a few tumbled down shacks used for storing equipment, and that was about the whole deal. But money began coming in, whole armies of workers - just plain people - folks from the neighborhood of New York, came up to camp in the winter and spring of 1935. They didn't get paid for their work. They wanted to help build a workers children's camp. They put in long hours building and preparing, opening in the summer of 1935. It was called "WO-CHI-CA", which stood for Workers Children's Camp.

This is how they developed the camp. The main thing that had to be built was the water tower. It was needed to pump water up from the well at the camp entrance. Over on the campus, they built tent platforms and four bunks and the toilets and washrooms. From that year on, the camp was built up little by little. Tents were pitched, fields were cleared, the chicken coops were converted into activity shacks with rooms built upstairs for staff members to sleep in. Campers came up from the first year and pitched in and helped to build the camp. It was a wonderful experience to see that farm converted from a rest home for a few broken down chickens and a tired old cow, into a community for children. A cement worker came one year and built stone water fountains. A modern incinerator was built for the burning of all garbage. The entire mess hall was rebuilt and knotty pine walls made it a delight to the eye. Then, hand hewn tables of sturdy oak were built for it. Benches, tables, cabinets were turned out with skilled hands. On July 28, 1948 the "Paul Robeson Playhouse" was dedicated.

Because all the parents at WO-CHI-CA were either members of the Socialist Workers Party or in a Workers Union, the townspeople did not like having the camp in their township. They were afraid of communism and made life hard for the people at the camp. It is assumed this is the reason WO-CHI-CA did not open in 1950, or ever again. Stories around town tell how the townspeople burned the workers out of WO-CHI-CA, but this is an unfounded rumor. The camp moved to a sister camp located in the State of Connecticut.

In 1950-51, a man who owned a packaging company, bought the land that was WO-CHI-CA. His name was Henry Beisler. Between 1951 and 1953, he turned the land over to the Lutheran Church of New Jersey. WO-CHI-CA became known as Camp Beisler and opened in the summer of 1953. Thirteen of the original buildings were used, including the Paul Robeson Playhouse, now known as the Rec. Hall. In 1970, the Army Core of Engineers designed a 7 1/2 acre lake to be dug out of the old swimming hole. It was known as Beisler Lake. The camp used it for swimming lessons, free swimming, boating and canoeing.

The camp is still operating as part of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America's Synod of New Jersey.

Food Drive for the Open Cupboard Food Pantry Continues

Last fall, in response to seriously low supplies at the Open Cupboard Food Pantry, the Glen Gardner General Store organized a Food Drive. The drive has been such a great success, yielding hundreds of pounds of food and sundry items for the Food Pantry.

The Food Pantry is located at 81 West Main Street in High Bridge and also includes a thrift shop run by, never enough, neighborhood volunteers. All of the proceeds from the thrift shop go to the Food Pantry. Although people have been very generous with thrift shop donations, there remains a huge demand for food and paper goods. Donations of non-perishables, canned foods, and paper goods are needed all year round to maintain an even flow of assistance to clients.

Donations may be brought directly to the Food Pantry or may be dropped off at the Glen Gardner General Store at 58 Main Street, Glen Gardner. Please contact Shelly Baluta at (908) 537-2319 for additional information.

Thank you all for your kind efforts. Many of our neighbors will benefit from your generosity.

... The Open Cupboard Staff and the Baluta Family extend their deep gratitude for the generous support of our friends and neighbors. The Drive has been so successful, that it has become an ongoing, year-round effort. Your continued kindness and goodwill helps so many in need, not just during the Holiday Seasons, but in the slower times of the year, when it is so important to remember others.

~ Thank you

While studying different types of communities in his second grade class at Valley View School, Tristan Perrella wrote about our rural community and Memorial Park. His story and illustrations were submitted by his teacher, Marilyn El-Zahr.

Our community is a rural community. It has lots of farms and a great Memorial Park. This park is dedicated to those who lost their lives on September 11th 2001. This park has the biggest piece of steel taken from the rubble of the World Trade Center. I like living in this community because it's beautiful and quiet.
